Re: Florida Traffic Citation 5870-BFZ 8

Dear Colonel:

In over fifty years of driving in the United States and numerous foreign countries I have had many encounters with enforcement authorities. Despite having driven over one million miles without an at-fault accident, not all of these events have been pleasant.

Recently I was stopped in Sumter County by Trooper J.D. Davis. He made an observation about my driving, and then discovered that I did not have my vehicle registration or proof of insurance as required. I have no excuse.

Trooper Davis was cordial and professional during the entire episode. His positive attitude was in contrast to what I was expecting. He was nice and cheerful, and despite receiving a fine, I left the encounter without a bad feeling.

Trooper Davis' conduct was precisely what I believe it should be. His performance reflects great credit on himself and the entire Florida Highway Patrol. He deserves emulation, commendation, and congratulations.

Sincerely,
