Dear Sir:

While on a recent trip to Florida, I was driving from Jacksonville to Micanopy. I was on vacation and antiquing along the way. Just after leaving Waldo's Antique Mall, I apparently missed a traffic sign for a school. I was trying to see if other shops I was passing were open.

I was stopped and received a Warning Notice. The officer told me his name and I'm sorry that I forgot it. However, his I.D is 1292, Troop B. Your officer was extremely courteous and professional. During the rest of my stay, I paid special attention to school zone limits in each city I visited. This was my one and only time stopped during a 3500 mile round trip. I try hard to keep my speed in check and use cruise control whenever possible on highways to avoid going faster than I should.

I hope this letter will find its way into your officer's file. He is a credit to your department.

Sincerely yours.

Larry J. Greenberg, MD
