Dear Colonel Knight,

The National Odometer & Title Fraud Enforcement Association held its 22nd Annual Conference & Training in Annapolis, Maryland hosted by the Md. MVA from August 17, 2003 to August 21, 2003. NOTFEA is a non-profit, professional organization of individuals working for law enforcement and consumer protection agencies, licensing and motor vehicle departments, private, state and federal attorneys, and investigators who are responsible for detecting, deterring, and prosecuting odometer, rebuilt/salvage, and other title fraud offenders under state, federal, and other applicable laws.

At this years training, Lt. Antonio Bartolome, provided the Florida Highway Patrol's National Title & Odometer Fraud Detection Workshop, an eight (8) hour program, to over fifty (50) Maryland MVA Title Supervisors, Clerks, and Investigators. Lt. Bartolome's professional manner, extensive knowledge of title fraud, and dynamic presentation skill's contributed to the success of the program. Attendee's expressed several positive remarks about the workshop and acquired needed training for the detection of title fraud. He remained available after his presentation for questions from the attendees. Lt. Bartolome was available during the entire conference to help with the other training and provide assistance to the Md. MVA Conference Committee. He is to be commended for his professionalism and dedication.

Please convey NOTFEA's gratitude to Lt. Bartolome for his assistance with the training and the Conference this year.

Yours Truly,

Lyle Paulson, President, NOTFEA,
