Florida Highway Patrol

To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to bring you to the attention of the integrity Lieutenant J. G. Crews, and Trooper Joel H. Johnson. These two officers aided me when I had ran out of gas on I-95 near St. Augustine on March 22, 2003. Their promptness and courtesy allowed me to return to the roadway safely and quickly. These two gentlemen were very patient and kind. They seemed to even be having fun and making light of figuring out innovative ways to transfer gasoline into my disabled vehicle. There was no sign of annoyance or disapproval for my carelessness; instead they sent me off with words of obvious advice and continued on with their regular duties.

Lieutenant J.G. Crews and Trooper Joel H. Johnson should be commended for their representation of the Florida Highway Patrol. I am sure this event of helpfulness was one of many others that may get overlooked throughout their careers; therefore, I wanted to make certain that their assistance be known.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Gina Zimmerman
