Dear Director,

This letter is to commend Sgt. B. Archambault. On Saturday the ninth of August my family and I were visiting friends and relatives over in the New Port Richey area.

My son who is 17 followed us in his own car. We made a turn into a gas station and my son had to cross some lanes to make the turn. He violated safe driving by cutting across some lanes of traffic and Sgt. Archambault pulled my son Chase over.

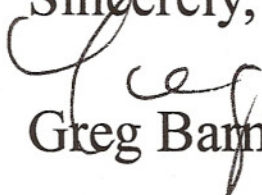

Sgt. Archambault handled himself in a most professional manner by letting me approach my son's car and speak to him. Sgt. Archambault chastised Chase for making a bad driving decision which I totally agreed with.

Since my son had never been pulled over before and he had been instructed by us if he got one ticket he would be riding his bike for one year, he was rather nervous.

Sgt. Archambaults' talk with my son put some fear in him, as well it should . I want to say that if more officers had the professional and courteous behavior of Sgt. Archambault there would be more respect for officers of the law.

He is true example of protecting and serving and you should be proud to have an individual of his character in your ranks.

Sincerely,

Greg Barnes
