

If you CHOOSE to race on the streets,
you could LOSE...

Your Bike — seized by police and sold, if you're caught and convicted

Your Freedom — crashes can cause life-threatening injuries and paralysis

Your Life — causing pain and suffering for friends and family

Your $$$ — speeding tickets, fines, court costs, medical bills, and funeral costs

YOU SHOULD KNOW...

- ▶ All costs are high
- ▶ Excessive speeds can make you seem invisible to others, and reaction times are slowed
- ▶ You can't avoid other cars or obstacles as you weave in and out of lanes

You can...

- ▶ Clip another car
- ▶ Be hit when swerving in and out of traffic
- ▶ Be in the driver's blind spot

You are...

- ▶ Many times more likely to be injured in a motorcycle crash than a car crash
- ▶ Much more likely to die in a motorcycle crash than a car crash

Remember, if you choose to race on the streets:

- ▶ Getting caught speeding, racing or fleeing police on the street cost big bucks — the average fines and legal costs for exceeding the legal speed — $1,000 or more (Chapters 316.1935; 932.701; 332.34, F.S.)
- ▶ The medical costs are high — $10,000 personal injury protection is gone within the first thirty minutes at a trauma center, and rehabilitation hasn't even begun
- ▶ The loss of your bike — in a wreck or by seizure — can cost $50,000 or more when property damage and other people's injuries are considered (Chapters 316.1935; 932.701; 332.34, F.S.)
- ▶ Your health, your life, or that of a friend is at risk — When you fly off a bike, you become a live projectile... you are at the mercy of your surroundings

Ask yourself — is speeding or racing on public roads worth the risk?

Bikes and fast tuner cars are awesome, but if you want to race... take it to the track. Remember the consequences!
