Legal Authority

Section 320.1325, Florida Statutes, provides for a temporary registration license plate and registration certificate valid for 90 days to an applicant who is temporarily employed in this state but not a resident. The temporarily employed license plate may be renewed by the individual for one additional 90-day period. A maximum of two 90-day temporarily employed license plates may be issued to the same individual within a 12-month period. This 12-month period begins the date the first plate is issued. At the end of the 180-day period of temporary registration, the applicant shall apply for a permanent registration if there is a further need to remain in this state.

Description And Use

This procedure provides information and instructions to assist tax collector employees, license plate agents and the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles for issuing temporarily employed 90-day registrations and license plates.

- B. The license plate range of TE00000 - ZZ99999 is used for temporarily employed 90-day license plates. These plates are assigned to each agency and must be entered in the license plate inventory of the motor vehicle issuance system.
- C. A second or one additional temporarily employed license plate can be issued for an additional 90 days during a 12-month period. The same application requirements apply for a second plate.
